

Why are Community Bank's paying for the sins of Wall Street Bank's? Do you fully understand the impact and financial burden you are putting on Community Bank's? Some Community Bank's will not survive this outrageous assessment. I know it will cost our institution almost $400,000 for this unbudgeted item...I understand the solvency issue for FDIC, but come on, there has to be other ways to replenish the fund...The little guy is always the one who gets hammered and no one seems to care!
