It appears that FDIC has taken the same approach as our government. Let the average person bail out the big banks. These are the ones who made huge profits, paid big bonuses, and were not under control. You are penalizing the ones who have done things right. This will affect our earnings and will affect our capital. Isn't this why the big banks are asking for government money? Please reconsider this special assessment. Also, realize the impact this assessment will have on small community banks.

Thank you,
