Subject: [EXTERNAL MESSAGE] May 21, 2021 - Request for Information and Comment on Digital Assets (RIN 3064-ZA25)

As I am not a large investor or institution, my guess is that it isn't likely this comment is meaningful. I am an American, though, and I have been worried about the US edge in this market since I first invested in digital assets years ago. Significant deregulation and education on these issues is essential for the long term viability of the United States as a place of innovation and leadership – especially for legislators and regulators. This could and will be the next version of the industrial revolution, where it happens. Let's have it be here.
