

---

Acknowledgments

Managing the Crisis: The FDIC and RTC Experience is the result of a study conducted by the FDIC on the banking crisis of the 1980s and early 1990s. It examines the evolution of the processes used by the two agencies to resolve banking problems, protect depositors, and dispose of the assets of the failed institutions. In conjunction with this book, a related symposium was held in April 1998 to discuss the resolution and disposition techniques used during the crisis period.

The study would not have occurred without the vision of former FDIC Chairman Ricki Helfer, who initiated the project, and the continued support of then-Acting Chairman Andrew C. Hove, Jr.

The project team was ably led by William R. Ostermiller, who organized and managed the writers, researchers, and editors for this project. The book would not have been completed without his dedication and effort. Two other members of the project team also deserve special mention and thanks. Martha Duncan-Hodge and Kate McDermott time and time again went above and beyond the call of duty to keep the project on track. They helped guide the project along from start to finish. Special thanks also go to the individuals named below for their contributions along with their creativity, diligence, and perseverance.

Final review and validation of factual data—Henry W. Abbot

Management of project's statistical database—James J. Gallagher

Editorial and writing staff—Mary Ledwin Bean, Shelby Heyn-Rigg, Mike Spaid, R. Steve Stockton, and Frank A. Willis

Technical and support staff—Donna Cady, Lali Crampton, Beatrice P. Culley, Anna M. Gay, Fay Scheer, and Nancy Smith

Every effort was made to ensure the accuracy of the information contained in this study and to provide an impartial assessment of what occurred. As is the case with any history, however, the interpretations made by those who have written it are important to its structure and conclusions and these interpretations are not necessarily those of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Authors and Contributing Writers

The primary authors and contributing writers were as follows:

PART I, Resolution and Asset Disposition Practices

- Chapter 1. Executive Summary
Mary Ledwin Bean, Martha Duncan-Hodge, William R. Ostermiller, Mike Spaid, R. Steve Stockton
- Chapter 2. Overview of the Resolution Process
William R. Ostermiller, Mike Spaid
- Chapter 3. Evolution of the FDIC's Resolution Practices
Eric Bloecher, John F. Bovenzi
- Chapter 4. Evolution of the RTC's Resolution Practices
Mike Spaid and Edward D. Thomas, with contributions by James J. Gallagher
- Chapter 5. Open Bank Assistance
Sean Forbush, Mike Spaid
- Chapter 6. Bridge Banks
Herbert J. Held, Wendy Hoskins
- Chapter 7. Loss Sharing
James J. Gallagher, with contributions by Carol S. Armstrong
- Chapter 8. The FDIC's Role as Receiver
John F. Bovenzi, Mike Spaid
- Chapter 9. The Closing Process and the Payment of Insured Depositors
Jeanne McBride and Al Porterfield, with contributions by John F. Bovenzi and James J. Gallagher
- Chapter 10. Treatment of Uninsured Depositors and Other Receivership Creditors
S. Blair Bean, with contributions by John F. Bovenzi
- Chapter 11. Professional Liability Claims
Andrew Gilbert, with contributions by James P. Clark, Ashley Doherty, Edward F. X. Gilbride, Richard Gill, Floyd Robinson, Jon A. Stewart, Catherine Topping, and Randy Walls
- Chapter 12. Evolution of the Asset Disposition Process
John F. Bovenzi, Lee J. Kutlich, and G. Michael Newton

Chapter 13. Auctions and Sealed Bids

Gary P. Bowen

Chapter 14. Asset Management Contracting

Henry W. Abbot and Andrew F. Basel, with contributions by Mary Ledwin Bean, William R. Ostermiller, and James R. Wigand

Chapter 15. Affordable Housing Programs

Stephen S. Allen, Deidra Young

Chapter 16. Securitizations

Sandra L. Thompson, with contributions by Carol S. Marks

Chapter 17. Partnership Programs

Mary Ledwin Bean, with contributions by David M. McDonough, Ronald C. Sommers, and James R. Wigand

Chapter 18. The FDIC's Use of Outside Counsel

Janice Butler and Mary H. Ratchford, with contributions by Betty J. DeRentis, Gayle L. Furtney, Donald B. McKinley, Barbara Nalepa, Marguerite Sagatelian, and Valerie R. Zeman

Chapter 19. Internal Controls

Pauline Tao, with contributions by Douglas G. Stinchcum and R. Steve Stockton

PART II, Case Studies of Significant Bank Resolutions

Kate McDermott, with contributions by John F. Bovenzi, Stephen C. Douglas, Mitchell L. Glassman, James E. Heath, William R. Ostermiller, Robert W. Schwarzlose, Mike Spaid, and William R. Watson

PART III, AppendicesAppendix A. Legislation Governing the FDIC's Roles as Insurer and Receiver

Charlotte M. Kaplow and Jerilyn Rogin, with contributions by David M. Gearin

Appendix B. List of Abbreviations and Glossary of Terms

Henry W. Abbot, with contributions by David M. Gearin and Barbara I. Taft

Appendix C. Statistical Data

James J. Gallagher

Other Acknowledgments

Much of the data provided to the project team and some of the early analysis used was gathered and provided by an earlier team headed by Craig A. Rice. The results of that group's efforts provided a valuable foundation for this project. I want to acknowledge the important contributions to that effort by Robert Arsineau, Edward Barker, Richard Brown, Thuan Le, Jean Litzler, Marsha Martin, Robert Polarek, Betty L. Tartt, Eric L. Winge, and Hugo A. Zia.

Many others in the FDIC Division of Resolutions and Receiverships analyzed data, reviewed chapters, and helped in a variety of ways. Important contributions were made by George C. Alexander, Martin W. Becker, Bruce E. Brown, Frank C. Campagna, Robert L. Carman, Michael C. Clark, James E. Crum, Nancy Deyerle, Stephen C. Douglas, Joseph A. Fanelli, Carlos M. Fiol, Mitchell L. Glassman, Kathleen M. Halpin, Stacey L. Hayashi, Sharon C. Lusk, James A. Meyer, Frederick J. Ozy, Lorraine Padgett, Gail Patelunas, Richard O. Romero, Thomas A. Rose, Russell S. Rumelt, Robert C. Schoppe, Gary A. Seale, Patrick J. Shute, Joci M. Spector, Alan P. Strom, Leslyee Sullivan, William C. Thomas, and Susan E. Whited.

The FDIC Legal Division provided valuable assistance throughout the project, with special thanks to Henry R. F. Griffin and Barbara I. Taft for coordinating the support efforts. Valuable contributions were made by Richard T. Aboussie, Paul D. Arends, Jock A. Banks, Thomas P. Bolt, Kevin Carver, Robert G. Clark, Chris J. Conanan, Patricia E. Davison, Thomas M. Dietz, John P. Dolan, Jacqueline Edwards, David G. Eisenstein, Elizabeth Falloon, David Fisher, David M. Gearin, Christopher L. Hencke, Howard Herman, Douglas H. Jones, Charlotte M. Kaplow, James Lantelme, Mark A. Libera, Donald B. McKinley, JoAnne Morris, Richard H. Mounts, Richard J. Osterman, Richard W. Owen, Richard I. Peyster, Michael B. Phillips, Elliott M. Pinta, Carl A. Polvina, Rodney D. Ray, Catherine A. Ribnick, Leslie Sallburg, Thomas A. Schulz, Cynthia Z. Shaughnessy, Gregory B. Smith, R. Penfield Starke, Gregory Taylor, John V. Thomas, Barbara Starke Tishuk, Arturo Vera-Rojas, and Patrick S. Vincent.

In addition, the FDIC Division of Research and Statistics provided valuable analytical and editorial services to the project. We acknowledge the help of Thuan Le in the analysis of the statistical data. We also acknowledge the analytical help in Part I provided by James E. Heath, Brian D. Lamm, James A. Marino, Jack Reidhill, and Steven A. Seelig. We appreciate the editorial and analytical support in Part II provided by Lynn Shibut and William R. Watson. For help in the development of the project's statistical database, we acknowledge the assistance of Heather Gratton, Bruce McWilliams, Lynn Shibut, and Katie A. Wehner.

We also acknowledge the valuable editorial work and extensive proofreading of James P. Battey, Marjorie C. Bradshaw, and Elizabeth A. Ford in the FDIC Office of Corporate Communications.

We wish to thank Brent D. Harral, Thomas N. Hearn, and Michael J. Rubino in the FDIC Division of Administration for their help on a number of contracting matters that arose during the course of the project.

James D. Collins, of the Executive Office, provided us with needed guidance and insight into the topic of internal controls, and we wish to thank him for his assistance.

We also want to thank the FDIC Division of Finance for their assistance. We acknowledge the help in obtaining data provided by Casey Catterton, Kenneth R. Fitzgerald, Timothy H. Hobbs, Alvin E. Kitchen, Elvis J. Nelson, Richard Sassoon, and Mark Weaver. We also acknowledge the helpful reviews of draft chapters by Bobby R. Bean, Bret D. Edwards, Arthur D. Murphy, David R. Wiley, and Louis E. Wright.

Thanks also goes to Richard Brown and Maureen Sweeney of the Division of Insurance.

We appreciate all the work done by the technical and support staff throughout the FDIC over the course of the project, especially the efforts of Denise S. Anthony, F. Cynthia Ballard, Gloria W. Massey, and Jacqueline B. Richardson.

We would like to thank Addie M. Hargrove and her staff in the Graphics Department of the FDIC Division of Administration for designing the book cover and for their help with publishing the book.

Several persons outside the FDIC devoted time to the project by either meeting with us or providing helpful reviews of draft chapters. In particular, we want to thank Donald W. Crocker, vice chairman of J. E. Robert Company, Inc., Christopher Kallivokas, chief executive officer of RER Financial Group, Inc., and Sherwin R. Koopmans, a former FDIC manager.

—John F. Bovenzi
Director
Division of Resolutions and Receiverships

PREVIOUS    NEXT    TABLE OF CHAPTER    CHAPTER    CONTENTS

