

25TH ANNUAL
BANK
RESEARCH
CONFERENCE

September 24–25, 2026

FDIC

Dear Colleague,

We would like to bring your attention to the Calls for Papers and Posters for the FDIC's 25th Annual Bank Research Conference. The Conference will be held September 24-25, 2026, in Arlington, Virginia.

Over the years, the Bank Research Conference has successfully brought academics, policy makers, and industry leaders together to share research on issues of prime importance to the banking community.

We hope you, your colleagues, and Ph.D. students will consider submitting your research for presentation at the FDIC Bank Research Conference.

Please share this email with your colleagues and graduate students.

Thank you,

Organizing Committee

CALL FOR PAPERS AND POSTERS

The FDIC's Center for Financial Research invites submissions for the 25th Annual Bank Research Conference to be held on September 24 and 25, 2026 in Arlington, Virginia.

We invite theoretical and empirical papers on banking issues including, but not limited to:

- Regulatory reform options and considerations
- Risk and resiliency in the financial system
- Real effects of financial turmoil
- Innovations in financial intermediation
- Deposit insurance and stability
- Emerging competitive threats to traditional banking
- AI and technology in finance
- Banks' role in the 21st Century

Paper and Poster submissions must be received by April 24, 2026. Authors will be notified about the status of their papers in July 2026.

For additional information, please contact Troy Kravitz or Alex Ufier at BankResearchConference@fdic.gov.

Call for Papers Information:

- Papers will be selected for presentation based on reviews by FDIC economists and the Organizing Committee, with final selections made by external reviewers.
- Submit a paper.

Call for Posters Information:

- The poster session is open to Ph.D. students in economics, finance, and related fields.
- Submissions should include a complete draft of the paper.
- Submissions may have senior coauthors, but the presenter must be a Ph.D. student.
- Posters will have both a brief on-stage presentation to the assembled conference as well as the poster to present in the lobby during breaks.
- Submit a paper for the poster session.