
From: Mallie Hebert <[REDACTED]>k>
Sent: Wednesday, August 20, 2025 11:19 AM
To: Comments
Subject: [EXTERNAL MESSAGE] RIN 3064-AG15

[REDACTED]

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
550 17th Street NW
Washington, DC 20429

Subject: Support for Proposed Amendments to Part 363 Thresholds

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express strong support for the FDIC's proposed amendments to Part 363 of its regulations, which would increase the asset thresholds for mandatory annual audits and internal control over financial reporting (ICFR) assessments for insured depository institutions.

The proposal to raise the threshold for mandatory annual audits from $500 million to $1 billion in total assets, and the ICFR audit threshold from $1 billion to $5 billion, reflects a thoughtful and pragmatic approach to regulatory modernization. These changes are long overdue and appropriately calibrated to the current scale and structure of the banking industry.

As the FDIC has noted, the original thresholds were established in 1993 and last updated in 2005. Since then, asset values have grown significantly, and the proposed adjustments would restore the relative scope of applicability that was intended when the rule was first adopted. Importantly, the proposal maintains oversight of approximately 90% of banking assets, ensuring continued protection of the financial system while reducing unnecessary regulatory burdens on smaller institutions.

Exempting nearly 800 institutions between $500 million and $1 billion from the audit requirement, and approximately 675 institutions between $1 billion and $5 billion from the ICFR requirement, will allow these banks to redirect resources toward serving their communities, investing in innovation, and enhancing customer service. These institutions often operate in rural or underserved areas, and the cost savings from reduced compliance obligations can have a meaningful impact on their ability to thrive.

In conclusion, I commend the FDIC for its data-driven and balanced proposal. Updating Part 363 thresholds is a sensible step that aligns regulatory requirements with the realities of today's banking environment. I urge the FDIC to finalize the rule as proposed.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

This email is covered by the Electronic Communications Act, 18 U.S.C. & 2510-2521 and may be legally privileged. The information contained in this email is intended only for the use of the individual or entity named above. If the reader of this message is not the intended recipient, or the employee or agent responsible to deliver it to the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that any dissemination, distribution or copying of this communication is strictly prohibited. If you have received this communication in error, please immediately notify us by telephone ([redacted]) and destroy the original message.

First Federal Bank of Louisiana encrypts email containing confidential customer information. You will receive a notice with instructions on how to open any encrypted email you receive.

Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
550 17th Street NW
Washington, DC 20429

Subject: Support for Proposed Amendments to Part 363 Thresholds

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express strong support for the FDIC's proposed amendments to Part 363 of its regulations, which would increase the asset thresholds for mandatory annual audits and internal control over financial reporting (ICFR) assessments for insured depository institutions.

The proposal to raise the threshold for mandatory annual audits from $500 million to $1 billion in total assets, and the ICFR audit threshold from $1 billion to $5 billion, reflects a thoughtful and pragmatic approach to regulatory modernization. These changes are long overdue and appropriately calibrated to the current scale and structure of the banking industry.

As the FDIC has noted, the original thresholds were established in 1993 and last updated in 2005. Since then, asset values have grown significantly, and the proposed adjustments would restore the relative scope of applicability that was intended when the rule was first adopted. Importantly, the proposal maintains oversight of approximately 90% of banking assets, ensuring continued protection of the financial system while reducing unnecessary regulatory burdens on smaller institutions.

Exempting nearly 800 institutions between $500 million and $1 billion from the audit requirement, and approximately 675 institutions between $1 billion and $5 billion from the ICFR requirement, will allow these banks to redirect resources toward serving their communities, investing in innovation, and enhancing customer service. These institutions often operate in rural or underserved areas, and the cost savings from reduced compliance obligations can have a meaningful impact on their ability to thrive.

In conclusion, I commend the FDIC for its data-driven and balanced proposal. Updating Part 363 thresholds is a sensible step that aligns regulatory requirements with the realities of today's banking environment. I urge the FDIC to finalize the rule as proposed.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

[Redacted signature]

J. Mallie Hebert
Senior Vice President, Director of Human Resources
First Federal Bank of Louisiana

BATON ROUGE LA 707

21 AUG 2025AM 1 L

FIRST CLASS

US POSTAGE PAID WITNEY BOWES

ZIP 70601 $ 000.74⁰
02 7W
0008033685 AUG 20 2025

RECEIVED AUG 27 P.M.

Jennifer M. Jones, Deputy Executive Secretary
Attention: Comments – RIN 3064-AG15
Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
550 17th Street NW
Washington, D.C. 20429

20429-

Legal

DATE REC'D CBRE SCREENED

AUG 28 2025

AUG 28 2025

At Pentagon

#095 PFPA