Real Estate Appraisal Exceptions in Major Disaster Areas

AGENCIES: Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Treasury Department (OCC); Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board); Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC); Office of Thrift Supervision, Treasury Department (OTS); and National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), collectively referred to as “the Agencies.”

ACTION: Statement and Order; temporary exceptions.

SUMMARY: Section 2 of the Depository Institutions Disaster Relief Act of 1992 (DIDRA) authorizes the Agencies to make exceptions to statutory and regulatory requirements relating to appraisals for certain transactions. The exceptions are available for transactions that involve real property in major disaster areas when the exceptions would facilitate recovery from the disaster and would be consistent with safety and soundness. In this notice, the Agencies grant exceptions for certain real estate-related transactions in areas affected by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. The expiration dates for the exceptions are set out in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section.

DATES: This order is effective on October 14, 2005 and expires for specific areas on the dates indicated in the SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION section.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Statement
Section 2 of DIDRA, 12 U.S.C. 3352, authorizes the Agencies to make exceptions to statutory and regulatory appraisal requirements for certain transactions. These exceptions are available for real property located in areas that the President has determined, pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 5170, that a major disaster exists, provided that the exception would facilitate recovery from the major disaster and is consistent with safety and soundness.1 Such exceptions expire not later than three years after the date of the President’s determination that a major disaster exists in the area.

On August 29, and September 24, 2005, the President declared several areas in certain Alabama, Mississippi, and Texas counties and Louisiana parishes as Major Disaster Areas and individual assistance was authorized by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (“FEMA”) as a result of the extensive damage caused by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. The Agencies believe that granting relief from the appraisal requirements for real estate transactions in certain designated disaster areas is consistent with the provisions of DIDRA.2

The Agencies have determined that the disruption of real estate markets in those FEMA-designated disaster areas interferes with the ability of depository institutions to obtain appraisals that comply with statutory and regulatory requirements. Therefore, the Agencies have determined that the disruption may impede institutions in making loans and engaging in other transactions that would aid in the reconstruction and rehabilitation of the affected areas. Accordingly, the Agencies have determined that recovery from these two major disasters would be facilitated by excepting certain transactions involving real estate located in the areas directly affected by the hurricanes from the real estate appraisal requirements of Title XI of the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989 (FIRREA), as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

1 The agencies must make the exception no later than 30 months after the date on which the President determines that a major disaster exists in the area.

2 Those counties and parishes designated by FEMA as receiving “Individual and Public Assistance (all categories)” and “Individual and Public Assistance (Categories A and B).”
This order has the effect of excepting the transactions specified below from the definition of “federally related transactions” in Title XI of FIRREA and the agencies’ appraisal regulations, and thereby from the statutory and regulatory real estate appraisal requirements for such transactions.

The Agencies also have determined that the exceptions are consistent with safety and soundness, subject to the requirement that the depository institution’s records relating to any excepted transaction appropriately document the following: (1) The property involved was directly affected by the major disaster or the transaction would facilitate recovery from the disaster; (2) there is a binding commitment to fund the transaction that is made within three years after the date the major disaster was declared and (3) the value of the real property supports the institution’s decision to enter into the transaction. In addition, the transaction must continue to be subject to review by management and by the Agencies in the course of examinations of the institution.

Expiration Dates

Exceptions provided under this order expire not later than three years after the date on which the President determines, pursuant to section 401 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. 5170 (DREAA), that a major disaster exists in the area. Accordingly, exceptions for the major disasters declared due to Hurricane Katrina expire on August 29, 2008, in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana; and exceptions for the major disasters declared due to Hurricane Rita expire on September 24, 2008, in Louisiana and Texas.

Order

In accordance with section 2 of DIDRA, relief is hereby granted from the provisions of Title XI of FIRREA and the agencies’ appraisal regulations for any real estate-related financial transaction that requires the services of an appraiser under those provisions, provided that: (1) The transaction involves real property located in an area that the President has determined, pursuant to section 401 of DREAA, is a major disaster area; (2) there is a binding commitment to fund the transaction that is made within three years after the date the major disaster was declared and (3) the value of the real property supports the institution’s decision to enter into the transaction. In addition, the transaction must continue to be subject to review by management and by the Agencies in the course of examinations of the institution.

[Docket No. NM334; Special Conditions No. 25–305–SC]

Special Conditions: Dassault-Aviation Mystere-Falcon 50 Airplanes; High-Intensity Radiated Fields (HIRF)

AGENCY: Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), DOT.

ACTION: Final special conditions; request for comments.

SUMMARY: These special conditions are issued for Dassault-Aviation Mystere-Falcon 50 airplanes modified by Chippewa Aerospace, Inc. These modified airplanes will have a novel or unusual design feature when compared to the state of technology envisioned in the airworthiness standards for transport category airplanes. The modification incorporates the installation of a Honeywell Primus Epic Control Display System for Retrofit (CDS–R) that performs critical functions. The applicable airworthiness regulations do not contain adequate or appropriate safety standards for the protection of these systems from the effects of high-intensity radiated fields (HIRF). These special conditions contain the additional safety standards that the Administrator considers necessary to establish a level of safety equivalent to that established by the existing airworthiness standards.

DATES: The effective date of these special conditions is October 4, 2005. Comments must be received on or before November 14, 2005.
