FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

12 CFR Parts 343 and 390

RIN 3064–AE49

Removal of Transferred OTS Regulations Regarding Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) is adopting a final rule to rescind and remove from the Code of Federal Regulations the part entitled “Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance” and to amend current FDIC regulations to make them applicable to state savings associations.

DATES: This final rule is effective on May 2, 2018.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Part 390, subpart I was included in the regulations that were transferred to the FDIC from the Office of Thrift Supervision (“OTS”) on July 21, 2011, in connection with the implementation of applicable provisions of title III of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (“Dodd-Frank Act”). The requirements for State savings associations in part 390, subpart I are substantively similar to the requirements in the FDIC’s 12 CFR part 343 (“part 343”) which is also entitled “Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance.”

The FDIC is adopting a final rule to rescind its entirety part 390, subpart I and to modify the scope of part 343 to include State savings associations and their subsidiaries to conform to and reflect the scope of the FDIC’s current supervisory responsibilities as the appropriate Federal banking agency. The final rule also defines “FDIC-supervised insured depository institution or institution” and “State savings association.” In the final rule, the FDIC also transfers an anticoercion and antitying provision from part 390, subpart I that is applicable to State savings associations.

Upon removal of part 390, subpart I, the Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance regulations applicable for all insured depository institutions for which the FDIC has been designated the appropriate Federal banking agency will be found at 12 CFR part 343.

I. Background

The Dodd-Frank Act

The Dodd-Frank Act 1 provided for a substantial reorganization of the regulation of State and Federal savings associations and their holding companies. Beginning July 21, 2011, the transfer date established by section 311 of the Dodd-Frank Act, codified at 12 U.S.C. 5411, the powers, duties, and functions formerly performed by the OTS were divided among the FDIC, as to State savings associations, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (“OCC”), as to Federal savings associations, and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (“FRB”), as to savings and loan holding companies. Section 316(b) of the Dodd-Frank Act, codified at 12 U.S.C. 5414(b), provides the manner of treatment for all orders, resolutions, determinations, regulations, and advisory materials that had been issued, made, prescribed, or allowed to become effective by the OTS. This section provides that if such materials were in effect on the day before the transfer date, they continue to be in effect and are enforceable by or against the appropriate successor agency until they are modified, terminated, set aside, or superseded in accordance with applicable law by such successor agency, by any court of competent jurisdiction, or by operation of law.

Section 316(c) of the Dodd-Frank Act, codified at 12 U.S.C. 5414(c), further directed the FDIC and the OCC to consult with one another and to publish a list of the continued OTS regulations that would be enforced by the FDIC and the OCC, respectively. On June 14, 2011, the FDIC’s Board of Directors approved a “List of OTS Regulations to be enforced by the OCC and the FDIC Pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act.” This list was published by the FDIC and the OCC as a Joint Notice in the Federal Register on June 7, 2011.

Although section 312(b)(2)(B)(i)(II) of the Dodd-Frank Act, codified at 12 U.S.C. 5412(b)(2)(B)(i)(II), granted the OCC rulemaking authority relating to both State and Federal savings associations, nothing in the Dodd-Frank Act affected the FDIC’s existing authority to issue regulations under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (“FDI Act”) and other laws as the “Appropriate Federal Banking Agency” or under similar statutory terminology. Section 312(c) of the Dodd-Frank Act amended the definition of “Appropriate Federal Banking Agency” contained in section 3(q) of the FDI Act, 12 U.S.C. 1813(q), to add State savings associations to the list of entities for which the FDIC is designated as the “appropriate Federal banking agency.” As a result, when the FDIC acts as the designated “Appropriate Federal Banking Agency” (or under similar statutory terminology) for State savings associations, as it does here, the FDIC is authorized to issue, modify and rescind regulations involving such associations, as well as for State member banks and insured branches of foreign banks.

As noted, on June 14, 2011, pursuant to this authority, the FDIC’s Board of Directors reissued and redesignated certain transferring regulations of the former OTS. These transferred OTS regulations were published as new FDIC regulations in the Federal Register on August 5, 2011. When it republished the transferred OTS regulations as new FDIC regulations, the FDIC specifically noted that its staff would evaluate the transferred OTS rules and might later recommend incorporating the transferred OTS regulations into other FDIC rules, amending them, or rescinding them, as appropriate.

One of the OTS rules transferred to the FDIC governed OTS oversight of consumer protections for depository institution sales of insurance. The OTS rule, formerly found at 12 CFR part 536, was transferred to the FDIC with only nominal changes and is now found in the FDIC’s rules at part 390, subpart I, entitled “Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance.” Before the transfer of the OTS rules and continuing today, the FDIC’s rules contained part 343, entitled “Consumer Protection in Sales of Insurance,” a rule governing FDIC oversight of consumer protection regulations that apply to retail sales practices, solicitations, advertising, or offers of any insurance product with respect to insured depository institutions for which the FDIC has been designated the appropriate Federal banking agency.

After careful review and comparison of part 390, subpart I, and part 343, the FDIC is adopting a final rule to rescind part 390, subpart I, because, as discussed below, it is substantively redundant to existing part 343 and simultaneously finalize technical conforming edits to the existing rule.

FDIC’s Existing 12 CFR Part 343 and Former OTS’s Part 536 (Transferred, in Part, to FDIC’s Part 390, Subpart I)

Section 305 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (“GLB Act”) added section 47 to the FDI Act, entitled “Insurance Consumer Protections.” Section 47 applies to retail sales practices, solicitations, advertising, or offers of insurance products by depository institutions or persons engaged in such activities at an office of an institution or acting on behalf of an insurance product. As noted, the FDIC’s existing rule, formerly found at 12 CFR part 536, is substantively redundant to existing part 343 and is therefore redundant to the existing rule. FDIC’s Existing 12 CFR Part 343 and Former OTS’s Part 536 (Transferred, in Part, to FDIC’s Part 390, Subpart I)

Section 305 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (“GLB Act”) added section 47 to the FDI Act, entitled “Insurance Consumer Protections.” Section 47 applies to retail sales practices, solicitations, advertising, or offers of insurance products by depository institutions or persons engaged in such activities at an office of an institution or acting on behalf of an insurance product. The scope of part 343 in the FDIC’s regulations and of part 390, subpart I in the OTS’s regulations is substantively similar. The FDIC regulations apply to any bank or any other person that is engaged in such activities at an office of the bank or on behalf of the bank. Similarly, the OTS regulations apply to any State savings association or any other person that is engaged in such activities at an office of a State savings association or on behalf of a State savings association. In the FDIC’s scope provisions, any other person includes subsidiaries because only subsidiaries that are selling insurance products or annuities at an office of the institution or acting on behalf of the depository institution as defined in the rules would be subject to the requirements of the rules. The OTS regulation specifically states that its regulation applies to subsidiaries of a State savings association only to the extent that it sells, solicits, advertises, or offers insurance products or annuities at an office of a State savings association or on behalf of a State savings association. This OTS provision will not be carried over to the FDIC’s part 343 because it is redundant and unnecessary, since the FDIC scope provision already includes subsidiaries within its definition. The rule specifically states that a covered person (or you) includes any person including a subsidiary or other affiliate if that person or one of its employees sells, solicits, advertises, or offers insurance products or annuities at an office of an institution or on behalf of an institution.

Accordingly, the portions of the OTS regulations that applied to State savings associations, their subsidiaries and their affiliates, originally codified at 12 CFR part 536 and subsequently transferred to FDIC’s part 390, subpart I, are substantively similar to the current FDIC regulations codified at 12 CFR part 343. By amending part 343 to encompass State savings associations and rescinding part 390, subpart I, the FDIC will streamline its regulations and reduce redundancy.

Although the former OTS rule and part 390, subpart I, covers savings and loan holding companies that are affiliated with savings associations in addition to savings associations, the FDIC does not supervise savings and loan or bank holding companies for purposes of this rule. Section 312 of the Dodd-Frank Act divides and transfers the functions of the former OTS to the FDIC, OCC, and FRB by amending section 1813(q) of the FDI Act. Specifically, section 312 transfers the former OTS’s power to regulate State savings associations to the FDIC, while it transfers the power to regulate savings and loan holding companies to the FRB. As a result, whereas the former OTS part 536 applied to savings associations, their subsidiaries and their affiliates, including savings and loan holding companies, upon transfer of part 536 to FDIC’s part 390, subpart I, only the authority over State savings associations and their subsidiaries and other affiliates was transferred to the FDIC for purposes of this rule. The FRB currently has jurisdiction over the regulation and supervision of consumer protections in connection with retail insurance sales practices as it applies to affiliates, including savings and loan holding companies of State savings associations. For this reason, the existing references to affiliates in part 390, subpart I, are not transferred to part 343 of the FDIC rules.

After careful comparison of the FDIC’s part 343 with the transferred OTS rule in part 390, subpart I, the FDIC has concluded that the transferred OTS rules governing consumer protection in sales of insurance are substantively redundant. Based on the foregoing, the FDIC is adopting a final rule to rescind and remove from the Code of Federal Regulations the transferred OTS rules located at part 390, subpart I, and to make technical and conforming changes to part 343 to incorporate State savings associations.

II. Proposed Rule

The functions of the former OTS that were transferred to the FDIC, section 316(b)(3) of the Dodd-Frank Act, 12 U.S.C. 5414(b)(3), in pertinent part, provide that the former OTS’s regulations will be enforceable by the FDIC until they are modified, terminated, set aside, or superseded in accordance with applicable law. After reviewing the rules currently found in part 390, subpart I, on November 15, 2016 the FDIC published a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (“NPR” or “Proposed Rule”) to (1) rescind part 390, subpart I, in its entirety; (2) modify to the scope of part 343 to include State savings associations and their subsidiaries to conform to and reflect the scope of FDIC’s current supervisory responsibilities as the appropriate Federal banking agency for State savings associations. The Final Rule also deletes the definition of “bank” and replaces it with a definition of “FDIC-supervised insured depository institution or institution” defined as “any State nonmember insured bank or State savings association for which the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is the appropriate Federal banking agency pursuant to section 3(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(q)).” As in the Proposed Rule, the Final Rule adds a new subsection (i), which would define “State savings association” as having the same meaning as in section 3(b)(3) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(b)(3)). The Final Rule, as the NPR, transfers an anticoercion and antitying provision from part 390, subpart I that is applicable to State savings associations to part 343; and (6) make conforming technical edits throughout, including replacing the term “institution” in place of “bank” throughout the rule where necessary.

Under the NPR, oversight of consumer protection in sales of insurance in part 343 would apply to all FDIC-supervised institutions, including State savings associations, and part 390, subpart I, would be removed because it is largely redundant of the rules found in part 343. Rescinding part 390, subpart I, would serve to streamline the FDIC’s rules and eliminate unnecessary regulations.

III. Comments

The FDIC issued the NPR with a 60-day comment period which closed on January 20, 2017. The FDIC received no comments on its Proposed Rule. The final rule (“Final Rule”) is adopted as proposed without changes.

IV. Explanation of the Final Rule

As discussed in the NPR, part 390, subpart I is substantively the same as the requirements in part 343 and is therefore redundant. The Final Rule removes and rescinds 12 CFR part 390, subpart I in its entirety. This will serve to streamline the FDIC’s rules and eliminate unnecessary regulation.

Consistent with the Proposed Rule, the Final Rule also amends the scope of part 343 to include State savings associations and their subsidiaries. The modified scope conforms to and reflects the scope of FDIC’s current supervisory responsibilities as the appropriate Federal banking agency for State savings associations. The Final Rule also deletes the definition of “bank” and replaces it with a definition of “FDIC-supervised insured depository institution or institution” defined as “any State nonmember insured bank or State savings association for which the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is the appropriate Federal banking agency pursuant to section 3(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(q)).”). As in the Proposed Rule, the Final Rule adds a new subsection (i), which would define “State savings association” as having the same meaning as in section 3(b)(3) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C. 1813(b)(3)).” The Final Rule, as the NPR, transfers an anticoercion and antitying provision that is applicable to State savings associations from part 390, subpart I, to part 343. As in the Proposed Rule, the Final Rule also makes conforming technical edits throughout, including using the term “institution” in place of “bank” throughout the rule where necessary.

V. Regulatory Process

A. The Paperwork Reduction Act

In accordance with the requirements of the Paperwork Reduction Act (“PRA”) of 1995, 44 U.S.C. 3501–3521, the FDIC may not conduct or sponsor, and the respondent is not required to respond to, an information collection unless it displays a currently valid Office of Management and Budget (“OMB”) control number.

The Final Rule would rescind and remove from the FDIC regulations part 390, subpart I. Part 390, subpart I was transferred with only nominal changes to the FDIC from the OTS when the OTS was abolished by title III of the Dodd-Frank Act and is substantively similar to the FDIC’s existing part 343 regarding consumer protection in the sales of insurance by depository institutions. The information collections contained in part 343 are cleared by OMB under the FDIC’s Insurance Sales Consumer Protections information collection (OMB Control No. 3064–0140). The FDIC reviewed its burden estimates for the collection at the time it assumed responsibility for supervision of State savings associations transferred from the OTS and determined that no changes to the burden estimates were necessary. The Final Rule would not revise the Insurance Sales Consumer Protections information collection under OMB Control No. 3064–0140 or create any new information collection pursuant to the PRA. Consequently, no submission will be made to the Office of Management and Budget for review. In the Proposed Rule, the FDIC requested comment on its conclusion that the NPR did not create a new or revise existing information collection. No comments on this issue were received.

B. The Regulatory Flexibility Act

The Regulatory Flexibility Act (“RFA”), requires that, in connection with a final rulemaking, an agency prepare and make available for public comment a final regulatory flexibility analysis that describes the impact of the proposed rule on small entities (defined in regulations promulgated by the Small Business Administration to include banking organizations with total assets of less than or equal to $550 million). However, a regulatory flexibility analysis is not required if the agency certifies that the rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities, and publishes its certification and a short explanatory statement in the Federal Register together with the rule. For the reasons provided below, the FDIC certifies that the Final Rule would not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

As discussed in the NPR, Part 390, subpart I, was transferred to the FDIC from OTS part 536, which governed consumer protections for depository institution sales of insurance. OTS part 536 had been in effect since 2001 and all State savings associations were required to comply with it. Because it is substantially the same as existing part 343 of the FDIC’s rules and therefore redundant, the FDIC is rescinding and removing the transferred regulation now located in part 390, subpart I, as proposed in the NPR. As a result, all FDIC-supervised institutions—including State savings associations and their subsidiaries—would be required to comply with part 343 if they are selling, soliciting, advertising, or offering any insurance product. Because all State savings associations and their subsidiaries have been required to comply with substantially similar consumer protection rules if they engaged in sales of insurance since 2001, the Final Rule would not place additional requirements or burdens on any State savings association irrespective of its size. Therefore, the Final Rule would not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities.

C. Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act

The OMB has determined that the Final Rule is not a “major rule” within the meaning of the Small Business Regulatory Enforcement Fairness Act of 1996 (“SBREFA”), 5 U.S.C. 801 et seq. As required by SBREFA, the FDIC will submit the Final Rule and other appropriate reports to Congress and the Government Accountability Office for review.

D. Plain Language

Section 722 of the GLB Act, codified at 12 U.S.C. 4809, requires each Federal banking agency to use plain language in all of its proposed and final rules published after January 1, 2000. In the NPR, the FDIC invited comments on whether the NPR was clearly stated and effectively organized, and how the FDIC might make it easier to understand. No comments on this issue were received. Although the FDIC did not receive any comments, the FDIC sought to present the Final Rule in a simple and straightforward manner.

E. The Economic Growth and Regulatory Paperwork Reduction Act

Under section 2222 of the Economic Growth and Regulatory Paperwork Reduction Act of 1996 (“EGRPRA”), the FDIC is required to review all of its regulations, at least once every 10 years, in order to identify any outdated or otherwise unnecessary regulations imposed on insured institutions. The FDIC, along with the other federal banking agencies, submitted a Joint Report to Congress on March 21, 2017 ("EGRPRA Report") discussing how the review was conducted, what has been done to date to address regulatory burden, and further measures we will take to address issues that were identified. As noted in the EGRPRA Report, the FDIC is continuing to streamline and clarify its regulations through the OTS rule initiation process. By removing outdated or unnecessary regulations, such as part 390, subpart I, and modifying part 343, this rule complements other actions the FDIC has taken, separately and with the other federal banking agencies, to further the EGRPRA mandate.

E. Riegle Community Development and Regulatory Improvement Act of 1994

The Riegle Community Development and Regulatory Improvement Act of 1994 (RCDRIA) requires the FDIC, in determining the effective date and administrative compliance requirements for new regulations that impose additional reporting, disclosure or other requirements on insured depository institutions to consider, consistent with the principles of safety and soundness and the public interest, any administrative burdens that such regulations would place on depository institutions, including small depository institutions, as well as the benefits of such regulations.

In addition, new regulations and amendments to regulations that impose additional reporting, disclosures or other new requirements on insured depository institutions generally must take effect on the first day of the calendar quarter that begins on or after the date on which the regulations are published in final form. The Final Rule has no new reporting or other new requirements on insured depository institutions. Therefore, the final rule is not subject to the requirements of the statute.

(a) Anticoercion and antitying rules.

You may not engage in any practice that would lead a consumer to believe that an extension of credit, in violation of section 106(b) of the Bank Holding Company Act Amendments of 1970 (12 U.S.C. 1972) in the case of a State nonmember insured bank and a foreign bank having an insured branch, or in violation of section 5(g) of the Home Owners’ Loan Act (12 U.S.C. 1464(g)) in the case of a State savings association, is conditional upon either:

(1) The purchase of an insurance product or annuity from the institution or on behalf of the institution;

(2) An agreement by the consumer not to obtain, or a prohibition on the consumer from obtaining, an insurance... product or annuity from an unaffiliated entity.

(b) Prohibition on misrepresentations generally. You may not engage in any practice or use any advertisement at any office of, or on behalf of, the institution or a subsidiary of the institution that could mislead any person or otherwise cause a reasonable person to reach an erroneous belief with respect to:

(1) The fact that an insurance product or annuity sold or offered for sale by you or any subsidiary of the institution is not backed by the Federal government or the institution, or the fact that the insurance product or annuity is not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation;

(2) In the case of an insurance product or annuity that involves investment risk, the fact that there is an investment risk, including the potential that principal may be lost and that the product may decline in value; or

(3) In the case of an institution or subsidiary of the institution at which insurance products or annuities are sold or offered for sale, the fact that:

(i) The approval of an extension of credit to a consumer by the institution or subsidiary may not be conditioned on the purchase of an insurance product or annuity by the consumer from the institution or a subsidiary of the institution; and

(ii) The consumer is free to purchase the insurance product or annuity from another source.

(c) Prohibition on domestic violence discrimination. You may not sell or offer for sale, as principal, agent, or broker, any life or health insurance product if the status of the applicant or insured as a victim of domestic violence or as a provider of services to victims of domestic violence is considered as a criterion in any decision with regard to insurance underwriting, pricing, renewal, or scope of coverage of such product, or with regard to the payment of insurance claims on such product, except as required or expressly permitted under State law.

§ 343.40 What you must disclose.

(a) Insurance disclosures. In connection with the initial purchase of an insurance product or annuity by a consumer from you, you must disclose to the consumer, except to the extent the disclosure would not be accurate, that:

(1) The insurance product or annuity is not a deposit or other obligation of, or guaranteed by, the institution or an affiliate of the institution;

(2) The insurance product or annuity is not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other agency of the United States, the United States Government, or a subsidiary of the institution or a subsidiary of the FDIC or any other agency; and

(b) Credit disclosure. In the case of an application for credit in connection with which an insurance product or annuity is solicited, offered, or sold, you must disclose that the institution may not condition an extension of credit on either:

(1) The consumer’s purchase of an insurance product or annuity from the institution or any of its affiliates; or

(2) The consumer’s agreement not to obtain, or a prohibition on the consumer from obtaining, an insurance product or annuity from an unaffiliated entity.

The disclosure required by paragraph (b) of this section must be made orally and in writing at the time the consumer applies for an extension of credit in connection with which an insurance product or annuity is solicited, offered, or sold.

(2) Exception for transactions by mail. If a sale of an insurance product or annuity is conducted by mail, you are not required to make the oral disclosures required by paragraph (a) of this section. If you take an application for credit by mail, you are not required to make the oral disclosure required by paragraph (b) of this section.

(3) Exception for transactions by telephone. If a sale of an insurance product or annuity is conducted by telephone, you may provide the written disclosures required by paragraph (a) of this section by mail within three business days beginning on the first business day after the sale, excluding Sundays and the legal public holidays specified in 5 U.S.C. 6103(a). If you take an application for credit by telephone, you may provide the written disclosure required by paragraph (b) of this section by mail, provided you mail it to the consumer within three days beginning the first business day after the application is taken, excluding Sundays and the legal public holidays specified in 5 U.S.C. 6103(a).

(i) Subject to the requirements of section 101(c) of the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act (12 U.S.C. 7001), you may provide the written disclosures required by paragraph (a) and (b) of this section through electronic media instead of on paper, if the consumer affirmatively consents to receiving the disclosures electronically and if the disclosures are provided in a format that the consumer may retain or obtain later, for example, by printing or storing electronically (such as by downloading).

(ii) Any disclosure required by paragraph (a) or (b) of this section that is provided by electronic media is not required to be provided orally.

(5) Disclosures must be readily understandable. The disclosures provided shall be conspicuous, simple, direct, readily understandable, and designed to call attention to the nature and significance of the information provided. (C) Wide margins and ample line spacing;

(D) Boldface or italics for key words; and

(E) Distinctive type size, style, and graphic devices, such as shading or sidebars, when the disclosures are combined with other information.

(ii) You have not provided the disclosures in a meaningful form if you merely state to the consumer that the required disclosures are available in printed material, but do not provide the printed material when required and do not orally disclose the information to the consumer when required.

(iii) With respect to those disclosures made through electronic media for which paper or oral disclosures are not required, the disclosures are not meaningfully provided if the consumer may bypass the visual text of the disclosures before purchasing an insurance product or annuity.
(7) Consumer acknowledgment. You must obtain from the consumer, at the time a consumer receives the disclosures required under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, or at the time of the initial purchase by the consumer of an insurance product or annuity, a written acknowledgment by the consumer that the consumer received the disclosures. You may permit a consumer to acknowledge receipt of the disclosures electronically or in paper form. If the disclosures required under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section are provided in connection with a transaction that is conducted by telephone, you must:

(i) Obtain an oral acknowledgment of receipt of the disclosures and maintain sufficient documentation to show that the acknowledgment was given; and

(ii) Make reasonable efforts to obtain a written acknowledgment from the consumer.

(d) Advertisements and other promotional material for insurance products or annuities. The disclosures described in paragraph (a) of this section are required in advertisements and promotional material for insurance products or annuities unless the advertisements and promotional materials are of a general nature describing or listing the services or products offered by the institution.

Implementation of the February 2017 Australia Group (AG) Intersessional Decisions and the June 2017 AG Plenary Understandings; Addition of India to the AG AGENCY: Bureau of Industry and Security, Commerce.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) publishes this final rule to amend the Export Administration Regulations (EAR) to implement the recommendations presented at the February 2017 Australia Group (AG) Intersessional Implementation Meeting, and later adopted pursuant to the AG silent approval procedure, and the recommendations made at the June 2017 AG Plenary Implementation Meeting and adopted by the AG Plenary. This rule amends the following Export Control Classification Numbers (ECCNs) on the Commerce Control List (CCL) to reflect the February 2017 Intersessional Implementation Meeting recommendations that were adopted by the AG: ECCN 2B350 (by adding certain prefabricated repair assemblies, and specially designed components therefor, that are designed for attachment to glass-lined reaction vessels, reactors, storage tanks, containers or receivers controlled by this entry); ECCN 2B351 (by clarifying that toxic gas monitoring equipment includes toxic gas monitors and monitoring systems, as well as their dedicated detecting components); and ECCN 2B352 (by adding certain nucleic acid assemblers and synthesizers to this entry and clarifying how the capacity of certain fermenters should be measured for purposes of determining whether they are controlled under this entry).

Consistent with the June 2017 AG Plenary Implementation Meeting recommendations that were adopted by the AG, this rule amends the following ECCNs on the CCL: ECCN 1C353 (to clarify that genetically modified organisms include organisms in which the nucleic acid sequences have been created or altered by molecular manipulation and that inactivated organisms containing recoverable nucleic acids are considered to be genetic elements) and ECCN 1C350 (by adding N,N-Disopropylaminoethanethiol hydrochloride). This rule also corrects several typographical errors in a note to ECCN 1C351 and updates the advance notification requirements in the EAR that apply to certain exports of saxitoxin. Finally, this rule amends the EAR to reflect the addition of India as a participating country in the AG.

DATES: This rule is effective April 2, 2018.
