Expanded Examination Cycle for Certain
Small Insured Depository Institutions and U.S. Branches and Agencies of Foreign Banks

AGENCIES: Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC); Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Board); Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC); and Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS), Treasury.

ACTION: Interim rules with request for comment.

SUMMARY: The OCC, Board, FDIC, and OTS (collectively, the Agencies) are jointly issuing and requesting public comment on these interim rules to implement section 605 of the Financial Services Regulatory Relief Act of 2006 (FSRRA), and Public Law No 109-473, (collectively the Examination Amendments). The Examination Amendments permit insured depository institutions (institutions) that have up to $500 million in total assets, and that meet certain other criteria, to qualify for an 18-month (rather than 12-month) on-site examination cycle. Prior to enactment of FSRRA, only institutions with less than $250 million in total assets were eligible for an 18-month on-site examination cycle. The OCC, Board, and FDIC are making parallel changes to their regulations governing the on-site examination cycle for U.S. branches and agencies of foreign banks (foreign bank offices), consistent with section 7(c)(1)(C) of the International Banking Act of 1978 (IBA), as amended (12 U.S.C. 3105(c)). In addition to implementing the changes in the Examination Amendments, the Agencies are clarifying when a small insured depository institution is considered “well managed” for purposes of qualifying for an 18-month examination cycle.

EFFECTIVE DATE: These interim rules are effective on [INSERT DATE OF PUBLICATION IN THE FEDERAL REGISTER]. Comments on the rules must be received by [INSERT DATE 30 DAYS AFTER PUBLICATION IN FEDERAL REGISTER].

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:*Background

Section 10(d) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (the FDI Act)<sup>1</sup> generally requires that the appropriate federal banking agency for an insured depository institution conduct a full-scope, on-site examination of the institution at least once during each 12-month period. Prior to enactment of FSRRA, section 10(d) also authorized the appropriate federal banking agency to lengthen the on-site examination cycle for an institution to 18 months if the institution (1) had total assets of less than $250 million; (2) was well capitalized (as defined in the prompt corrective action statute at 12 U.S.C. 1831o); (3) was found, at its most recent examination, to be well managed and to have a composite condition of outstanding or good;<sup>2</sup> (4) had not undergone a change in control during the previous 12-month period in which a full-scope, on-site examination otherwise would have been required; and (5) was not subject to a formal enforcement proceeding or order by its appropriate federal banking agency or the FDIC. The Board, the FDIC and the OTS, as the appropriate federal banking agencies for state-chartered insured banks and savings associations, are permitted to conduct on-site examinations of such institutions on alternating 12-month or 18-month schedules with the institution's State supervisor, if the Board, FDIC, or OTS, as appropriate, determines that the alternating examination conducted by the State carries out the purposes of section 10(d) of the FDI Act and the Home Owners' Loan Act.

<sup>2</sup> Under section 10(d) of the FDI Act, before enactment of the Examination Amendments, the Agencies had the authority to extend the 18-month examination cycle to institutions with composite CAMELS ratings of 2 and assets of up to $250 million. Section 10(d) required that the Agencies determine that extending the 18-month cycle in this manner would be consistent with safety and soundness. See

In addition, section 7(c)(1)(C) of the IBA provides that a U.S. branch or agency of a foreign bank shall be subject to on-site examination by its appropriate federal banking agency as frequently as a national or state bank would be subject to such an examination by the agency. The agencies previously adopted regulations to implement the examination cycle requirements of section 10(d) of the FDI Act and section 7(c)(1)(C) of the IBA, including the extended 18-month examination cycle available to qualifying small institutions and foreign bank offices.<sup>3</sup>

Section 605 of FSRRA, which became effective on October 13, 2006, amended section 10(d) of the FDI Act to raise, from $250 million to $500 million, the total asset threshold below which an insured depository institution may qualify for an 18-month (rather than a 12-month) on-site examination cycle.<sup>4</sup> Public Law No. 109-473, which became effective on January 11, 2007, also amended section 10(d)(10) of the FDI Act to authorize the appropriate agency, if it determines the action would be consistent with principles of safety and soundness, to allow an insured depository institution that falls within this expanded total asset threshold to qualify for an 18-month examination cycle if the institution received a composite rating of outstanding or good at its most recent examination.<sup>5</sup>

The Examination Amendments will allow the Agencies to better focus their supervisory resources on those institutions that may present capital, managerial, or other issues of supervisory concern, while concomitantly reducing the regulatory burden on small, well capitalized and well managed institutions. The Agencies will continue to use off-site monitoring tools to identify potential problems in smaller, well capitalized and well managed institutions that present low levels of risk. Moreover, neither the statute nor the Agencies' regulations limit, and the Agencies therefore retain, the authority to examine an insured depository institution or foreign bank office more frequently than would be required by the FDI Act or IBA.

Description of the Interim Rules

The Agencies are adopting interim rules to implement the Examination Amendments. In particular, the Agencies are amending their respective rules to raise, from $250 million to $500 million, the total asset threshold below which an insured depository institution that meets the qualifying criteria in section 10(d) and the Agencies' rules may qualify for an 18-month on-site examination cycle. In addition, as authorized by the Examination Amendments, the Agencies have determined that it is consistent with safety and soundness to permit institutions with between $250 million and $500 million in total assets that received a composite rating of 1 or 2 under the Uniform Financial Institutions Rating System (commonly referred to as CAMELS),<sup>6</sup> and that meet the other qualifying criteria set forth in section 10(d) and the Agencies' rules, to qualify for an 18-month examination cycle. In this regard, data indicate that between 1985 and 2000, insured depository institutions with a composite CAMELS rating of 1 or 2 were more than three times less likely to fail over the next five-year period than institutions with a lower composite CAMELS rating. Furthermore, the Agencies note that, in order to qualify for an 18-month examination cycle, any insured depository institution with total assets of less than $500 million – including one with a composite rating of 2 – must meet the other capital, managerial and supervisory criteria set forth in section 10(d). These provisions, combined with the Agencies’ off-site monitoring activities and ability to examine an institution more frequently as necessary or appropriate, have permitted the Agencies to effectively supervise and protect the safety and soundness of institutions with total assets of $250 million or less since 1997.

Consistent with section 7(c)(1)(C) of the IBA, the OCC, Board and FDIC also are making conforming changes to their regulations governing the on-site examination cycle for the U.S. branches and agencies of foreign banks. The Agencies’ amended rules permit a foreign bank office with total assets of less than $500 million to qualify for an 18-month examination cycle if the office received a composite ROCA rating of 1 or 2 at its most recent examination.<sup>7</sup>

The Agencies estimate that these interim rules will increase the number of insured depository institutions that may qualify for an extended 18-month examination cycle by approximately 1,089 institutions, for a total of 6,670 insured depository institutions. Approximately 126 foreign branches and agencies would be eligible for the extended examination cycle based on the interim rules, for an increase of 31 offices.<sup>8</sup>

In connection with these changes, the Agencies also have modified their rules to specify, consistent with current practice, that a small institution meets the statutory “well managed” criteria for an 18-month cycle if the institution, besides having a CAMELS composite rating of 1 or 2, also received a rating of 1 or 2 for the management component of the CAMELS rating at its most recent examination. The Agencies believe this amendment will provide additional transparency to their rules and clarify for institutions how the “well managed” requirement in section 10(d) is interpreted and applied by the Agencies.<sup>9</sup> This interpretation is consistent with definitions of “well managed” that the Agencies currently apply in other circumstances.<sup>10</sup>

<sup>7</sup> The four components of the ROCA supervisory rating system for foreign bank offices are: Risk management, Operational controls, Compliance, and Asset quality.

<sup>8</sup> Data are as of June 30, 2006, and reflect the number of institutions and foreign bank offices with total assets of less than $500 million.

The FDI Act and the IBA set the outside limits within which an on-site safety and soundness examination of an institution or foreign bank office must commence, and permit the appropriate Agency for an institution or foreign bank to conduct an on-site examination more frequently than required. The Agencies’ rules continue to expressly recognize that the appropriate Agency may examine an institution or foreign bank office as frequently as the Agency deems necessary.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The Agencies are issuing these interim rules without advance notice and comment and the 30-day delayed effective date ordinarily prescribed by the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 551 et seq. (“APA”). The interim rules implement the provisions of section 605 of the FSRRA, which became effective on October 13, 2006, and Public Law No. 109- 473, which became effective on January 11, 2007. The interim rules adopt without change the statutory increase in the asset ceiling for 18-month examination of CAMELS-1 rated institutions and the statutory availability of the 18-month examination cycle for CAMELS-2 institutions. The interim rules also affect how the Agencies apply <sup>9</sup> The Agencies’ rules relating to the examination cycle for foreign bank offices already permit the appropriate Agency to consider, among other things, whether the office received a “3” or lower rating for any of the individual ROCA components (including risk management) in determining whether the office should qualify for an 18-month exam cycle. See 12 CFR § 4.7(b)(2)(i) (OCC), § 211.26(c)(2)(ii) (Board), and § 347.211(b)(2)(i) (FDIC).

<sup>10</sup> See, e.g., 12 CFR 362.17(c)(1) (FDIC); 12 CFR 5.34 (d)(3) (OCC); 12 CFR 225.2(5) & 12 CFR 208.11(h) (Board); OTS Examination Handbook, Sec. 060 (2004) (OTS).

the “well managed” requirement in the underlying statute and thus, provide greater clarity to institutions consistent with the agencies’ current practices. For these reasons, the Agencies find there is good cause to issue the rules without advance notice and comment. 5 U.S.C. 553(b)(3)(A), (B). The rules explain how the Agencies generally exercise the discretion given them by the statute to examine qualifying institutions less frequently than once every 12 months. The Agencies retain the discretion to examine individual institutions more frequently; the interim rules do not bind the Agencies to examine qualifying institutions on an 18-month basis, nor do they create a right for institutions to be examined on an 18-month cycle. With respect to the delayed effective date, the Agencies conclude that, because the rules recognize an exemption, the interim rules are exempt from the APA’s delayed effective date requirement. 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(1). The Agencies are nevertheless interested in the views of the public and request comment on all aspects of these interim rules.

REGULATORY FLEXIBILITY ACT

The interim rules do not impose any new obligations, restrictions or burdens on banking organizations, including small banking organizations, and, indeed, reduce regulatory burden associated with on-site examinations for qualifying small institutions and foreign bank offices. For these reasons, the Agencies certify that the interim rules will not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities, as defined in the Regulatory Flexibility Act. 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq. The objective and legal basis for the interim rules are discussed in the Supplementary Information.

PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT

In accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995,<sup>11</sup> the Agencies have determined that no collections of information pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act are contained in this interim rules.

OCC AND OTS EXECUTIVE ORDER 12866 STATEMENT

The OCC and OTS have each independently determined that the interim rules with request for comment are not significant regulatory actions under Executive Order 12866.

OCC AND OTS UNFUNDED MANDATES ACT OF 1995 STATEMENT

Section 202 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act of 1995<sup>12</sup> requires that an agency prepare a budgetary impact statement before promulgating a rule that includes a federal mandate that may result in the expenditure by state, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of $100 million or more in any one year. If a budgetary impact statement is required, section 205 of the Unfunded Mandates Act also requires an agency to identify and consider a reasonable number of regulatory alternatives before promulgating a rule. Because the OCC and the OTS have each independently determined that the interim rules will not result in expenditures by state, local, and tribal governments, in the aggregate, or by the private sector, of more than $100 million in any one year, the OCC and the OTS have not prepared a budgetary impact statement or specifically addressed the regulatory alternatives considered. Nevertheless, as discussed in the preamble, the interim rules will have the effect of reducing regulatory burden on certain institutions and foreign bank offices.

PLAIN LANGUAGE

Section 722 of the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (12 U.S.C. 4809) requires the Agencies to use “plain language” in all proposed and final rules published after January 1, 2000. The Agencies believe the interim rules are presented in a clear and straightforward manner and solicit comments on ways to make the rules easier to understand.

Subpart D also issued under 12 U.S.C. 1833e.

2. In Subpart A, § 4.6(b) is revised to read as follows:

§ 4.6 Frequency of examination of national banks

* * *

(b) 18-month rule for certain small institutions. The OCC may conduct a full-scope, on-site examination of a national bank at least once during each 18-month period, rather than each 12-month period as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, if the following conditions are satisfied:

- (1) The bank has total assets of less than $500 million;
- (2) The bank is well capitalized as defined in part 6 of this chapter;
- (3) At the most recent examination, the OCC:
  - (i) assigned the bank a rating of 1 or 2 for management as part of the bank's rating under the Uniform Financial Institutions Rating System; and
  - (ii) assigned the bank a composite rating of 1 or 2 under the Uniform Financial Institutions Rating System;
- (4) The bank currently is not subject to a formal enforcement proceeding or order by the FDIC, OCC, or the Federal Reserve System; and

(5) No person acquired control of the bank during the preceding 12-month period in which a full-scope, on-site examination would have been required but for this section.
