Highlights:

- The federal banking agencies have amended their CRA regulations to increase the asset-size threshold to be used to define “small bank” and “intermediate small bank.” The increase is based on the annual percentage change in the Consumer Price Index (CPI).
- As a result of the 4.49 percent increase in the CPI for the period ending in November 2008, the definitions of small and intermediate small banks for CRA examinations have changed as follows:
 - “Small bank” or “small savings association” means a bank that, as of December 31 of either of the prior two calendar years, had assets of less than $1.109 billion.
 - “Intermediate small bank” or “intermediate small savings association” means a small bank with assets of at least $277 million as of December 31 of both of the prior two calendar years, and less than $1.109 billion as of December 31 of either of the prior two calendar years.
- These asset-size threshold adjustments will take effect on January 1, 2009.
- Current and historical asset-size thresholds are published on the Federal Financial Institutions Examination Council's Web site at www.ffiec.gov/cra/.
