Dear FDIC,

I am writing in opposition to the FDIC increasing community bank assessment of 20 basis points.

You are punishing small town America for the criminal activities of 10 or 12 large banks and financial institutions. This is at its worst robbery and at its best taxation without representation.

If our government thinks throwing money at corrupt organizations is the proper thing to do, we need new people in our government.

Sincerely,
Richard B. Stender

P.S. Drop the corporate tax rate to 15% and offer all corporations a 5-year moratorium on taxes (if they will open up a new plant in our country).

This will increase tax revenue from employees and decreases unemployment.

This is offered to you without charge. However, good luck convincing a politician.
