

From: John Allison [mailto:allison@centralsavingsbank.com]

Sent: Monday, March 02, 2009 3:39 PM

To: Comments

Subject: Rates for FDIC insurance.

Why, when my bank has played by the rules, been prudent and worked in the best interest of our customers and shareholders should we have to pay for all Those who have not been as prudent. We are tired of being the whipping boy for our financial system. The credit unions and now bad banks, and we as sound Profitable entities are expected to carry their dead weight while the big wigs in these organizations walk away with millions. It is time Washington woke up, this is a system you very much helped create.

The information transmitted is intended only for the person or entity to which it is addressed and may contain confidential and/or privileged material. Any retransmission, dissemination, or other use of this information by persons or entities other than the intended recipient is prohibited. If you received this message in error, please contact Central Savings Bank and delete the material from any computer. Comments or statements are sent in good faith, but do not necessarily reflect the views of Central Savings Bank.