I appreciate the effort to temporarily raise the borrowing limit to FDIC to take the strain of the special assessment on banks, especially COMMUNITY BANKS, of which I am a director, and had nothing to do with the bad loans made to home owners or any one else. The congress seems to be throwing our tax money at every one that has caused the problem and make those of us that had nothing to do with it pay for their bad decisions. Lets put the stimulus money where it will work.
