Subject: Assessment for FDIC Insurance

Please reconsider the extreme burden you are placing on the small community banks that aren't responsible for this mess we are in. We are already suffering for the sins of the banks that were too big too fail, and this additional expense from us is not fair, nor deserved. The additional expense should not come from your small main street banks that the communities need. We didn't make all the money Wall Street banks did, and shouldn't be the ones to prop them up now. Please.....do the right thing. It would be a welcome surprise that anything good could come from Washington.
