To whom it may concern:

The levy of a special assessment by the FDIC on Friday is an unwarranted burden for the community banks of America and my bank in particular. We've strived to operate ethically and with proper business acumen ensuring our stock holders a fair return and our customers a sound, consistently better service option in our market. I doubt the Wall St. Banks you're trying to support can say the same! Why do the community banks have to support the failed "to big to fail banks?" It is wrong and should be reconsidered promptly.
