

From: Michael Lawson
To: Comments
Subject: RIN 3064-AD56
Date: Monday, March 21, 2011 12:01:09 AM

As a taxpayer, I completely support requiring banks that reward risky employee behavior to pay higher insurance premiums. This behavior nearly wrecked our, and the world's, economy a few years ago, and it seems there is no other way to control it that can be put in place. I lead a fairly conservative financial life myself and do not want to subsidize risky gambling behavior at the banks.

Thank you,
Lori McConnell