The Advisory Council is part of an ecosystem of stakeholders, including business and community leaders, who are providing mission-focused oversight to the Fund. As a non-voting member, the FDIC will work to support and promote the Fund’s mission.

Advisory Council

The fund is a Delaware limited partnership established to make investments in FDIC-insured MDIs and CDFIs, provide advisory services, and promote increases in size, scale, and capacity to enable these institutions to expand their reach in their communities.

The Fund

The Fund Manager solicits and underwrites investments, minimizes operational costs, and meets performance targets.

Mission-Driven Bank Fund

Helping Communities in Need

The FDIC established the Mission-Driven Bank Fund to give investors the opportunity to help these banks make a difference in their communities.

Private Investors

Investigators provide capital investments and technical resources for the Fund, which provides a modest return on their investment.

Fund Structure

The FDIC designed the structure of the Fund based on input from 70 CEOs of mission-driven banks, trade groups, potential investors, consultants, and philanthropic organizations.

Mission–Driven Banks

FDIC-insured MDIs and CDFIs identify specific opportunities and develop pitches to the Fund for investments that will support their communities.

Communities in Need

With expanded offerings from MDIs and CDFIs, people can build savings and businesses can grow.

Reporting Results

Providing for impact, the fund targets a modest rate of return to investors. Investors will receive audited financial statements each fiscal year along with an analysis of the Fund’s social impact.
