Re: FDIC- 12 CFR Part 345-RIN 3064-AC89- Proposed Revisions to the CRA Regulations

Dear Mr. Feldman:

On behalf of the New Mexico Bankers Association, I am writing to comment on proposed revisions to the CRA regulations.

The NMBA supports raising the threshold of a “small bank” under CRA to $1 billion, without regard to the size of the holding company. We also support indexing the size thresholds for both the small bank and the intermediate small bank annually, based on the Consumer Price Index.

The current proposal offers less relief from regulatory burden than was proposed earlier this year- to simply raise the small bank threshold to $500 million. Adding a new test to $250-500 Million banks undermines the purpose of this effort, and adds new untested requirements. We urge the threshold for the existing small bank test be raised to $500 million.

We support the adoption of the proposed intermediate small bank test for banks over $500 million but less than $1 billion. This test offers potential relief, and in any event, a bank can always opt to be considered a large bank.

While the proposed community development test for small intermediate banks appears to offer greater flexibility in meeting unique community needs, we have concerns about making it a separate test. The consequence of a less than satisfactory rating, no matter how outstanding the bank’s record of meeting the credit needs of its community is an unsatisfactory overall CRA rating. We recommend that the community development test be made a factor in the new intermediate small bank examination.

Rural banks believe the current definition of “community development” is unfair to rural banks. Too many have had to make contributions, investments, or loans outside of their communities to satisfy the current large bank test. We urge that “rural” should include those counties designated “nonmetropolitan” by OMB. That is a standard definition and most equitable.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

Sincerely,

John W. Anderson
