RE: Community Reinvestment Act Regulations, Docket ID OCC-2018-0008

Dear Comptroller Otting and Chair McWilliams:

Woodstock Institute strongly urges you to extend the comment period on the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPR) titled Community Reinvestment Act Regulations by 90 days to allow interested and impacted parties to develop and submit informed comments on this far-reaching proposal. The COVID-19 crisis is justifiably occupying both your and our attention, as well as the attention of our allies and partners – many of whom are stretched thin by the magnitude of this immense public health emergency. As you know, the NPR is long and intricate and, as proposed, will have a significant impact on banks and the communities they serve across the country. The interests of informed rulemaking and open and transparent government are best served by extending the comment period by an additional 90 days.

About Woodstock Institute

Woodstock Institute is a leading nonprofit research and policy organization in the areas of equitable lending and investments; wealth creation and preservation; and safe and affordable financial products, services, and systems. Woodstock Institute works locally and nationally to create a financial system in which economically and racially segregated communities can safely borrow, save, and build wealth so that they can achieve economic security and community prosperity. Our key tools include: applied research; policy development; coalition building; and technical assistance. Woodstock Institute has been a recognized economic justice leader and bridge-builder between communities and policymakers in this field since it was founded in 1973 near Woodstock, Illinois.

Very truly yours,

Jean Pogge
Interim Director
